

Henry COUNTY

Connecting Business in Atlanta's New South

Henry County Development Authority

125 Westridge Industrial Blvd., McDonough, Georgia 30253 | 770-288-8000 | www.ChooseHenry.com

Henry County, GA – Connecting Professional Services in Atlanta's New South

Customer care, business services and information technology have been identified as holding high value for Henry County. The county has experienced strong employment gains in administrative and support services (70.1 percent growth) and professional and technical services (44.0 percent) over the past decade. Henry's reputation as a place offering strong quality of life amenities, a reasonable cost of living, and top-rated public schools is undoubtedly an asset in attracting employees for management, business and financial occupations.

Major Industry Employers

Georgia Power Company

Henry County is home to Georgia Power Company's Customer Care Center, which serves as the company's primary call center and also houses technology, operations, training and back office functions. As the primary call center for Georgia Power, millions of calls are answered here each year.

TSYS -

Henry's newest addition in the Professional Solutions sector is TSYS, a global payments company headquartered in Columbus, Georgia. Slated to open later this year, TSYS's new facility will offer customer service, risk and fraud management, collections, dispute and chargeback servicing, back office support and full call center servicing solutions.

“

We are excited about the opening of our new center in McDonough. We are confident that we will be able to attract top-notch talent from the market that will help us deliver comprehensive servicing solutions for our clients, while optimizing the overall customer experience.

”

- David Figgat, Group Executive of TSYS Managed Services

— 70% GROWTH IN — SUPPORT SERVICES

— Home To — 725,000+
SKILLED WORKERS

— 40% GROWTH IN —
SUPPORT SERVICES